Bilandic, retiring Mayor, turned the gavel over to Mayor Jane Byrne and he then extended best wishes on behalf of himself, Heather and Michael Morgan Bilandic. Mayor Byrne accepted the gavel and assumed the Chair.

Inaugural Address by Honorable Jane Byrne, Mayor.

Honorable Jane Byrne, Mayor, thereupon addressed the City Council as follows:

As I stand here before you tonight, I am reminded of the simple words with which the late Mayor Richard Daley began his inaugural addresses. He would say that he was filled with "mingled feelings of humility and pride and with a sense of confidence to meet the challenges that lie ahead."

That phrase best describes my own feelings at this moment. Like the late Mayor, I love Chicago. It is where I have lived my entire life and made some measures of contribution through public service to make it a better place in which to live.

But always I was a private citizen whose activities in government or political party were appointive. Tonight—by taking this solemn oath—I am no longer a private citizen but the Mayor of the City of Chicago. I accept that responsibility and ask only that I be judged by my performance as its chief executive.

I can tell you that getting here wasn't easy.

But it happened because growing numbers of my fellow Chicagoans believed there should be a change in the city's direction and priorities. They were ready to launch a new era for Chicago . . . with new faces and new politics. And they turned out in record numbers on election day to give this administration a clear mandate to bring about those changes.

I am a Democrat. I have been one all of my life. But I recognize that I was elected not only by the members of my own party, but the large numbers of independents and republicans as well. I pledge tonight to be Mayor for all of the people of this city—for one Chicago.

The people of Chicago are a proud people—and for good reason. When there were fears about the future of this nation's older cities . . . when a few of the cities teetered on the brink of bankruptcy, all eyes were focused on Chicago for contrast. This was the city run efficiently. It was the city in good financial condition. It was the city . . . if I may repeat the cliche . . . Chicago was the city that works.

And the facts demonstrate that, by comparison to other large cities, we have been successful. Chicago kept industry, attracted new business, became the center for convention trade and transportation. Our universities and museums are respected around the country. The Chicago Symphony is considered the greatest orchestra in the world. We have much to build on.

The credit for much of this rightly belongs to the late Mayor Daley who forged a coalition of business and labor that kept Chicago always moving ahead. I pledge tonight to continue that tradition. There will be some changes, for sure. But I am committed to keeping this city a strong and viable center for commerce and industry, for continuing to make it a place of opportunity for its citizens.

In the days and months I spent walking through the various communities of this city, I found that Chicago did not work for everyone, however. I talked with people who felt that their neighborhoods had been betrayed, forgotten. I heard from others who expressed doubts about the city's future. And in their silence, I had only to walk their streets to see the boarded-up buildings, burned-out homes, and dying commercial areas. I listened and I knew the people were hearing a different drummer.

Chicago's neighborhoods have always been this city's greatest strength. If those communities are left to decay, this city will decay. We cannot, we will not, let this happen.

Be assured that I did not become the Mayor of Chicago to preside over its decline. I am here before you tonight to dedicate this administration to bringing a new renaissance of neighborhood life and community spirit, a renewal of confidence in the future of our city and a revival of opportunity for all Chicago.

None of us should be so naive as to believe that this will be an easy task, or that it can be accomplished in a year, or even a single term of office. We saw hundreds of programs to redevelop the central city, the neighborhoods, in the past. They came from the administrations of President Kennedy and Johnson and had some measures of success and failure.

If we are to succeed, we must recognize that the community redevelopment is not solely the rehabilitation of housing, or putting a mall in the business strips.

If we are to succeed with so ambitious an undertaking, our programs must be coordinated to:

—Improve the school system so that children get good educations and our schools will actually lure young families to live here;

—Provide the best and most economical basic services of sanitation, health care, transportation and law enforcement;

—Reform the system of taxation to make it a fair one; and —Improve the climate for business and industry so that jobs and opportunity will be available.

—We must make Chicago a city free from fear.

A moment ago, I cautioned that it will take time to achieve these goals. So important are they, however, there should be no delay in getting to work on them.

If for no other reason than the energy crisis now facing this country, the federal government should be eager to become partners with us in rebuilding our city. The nation can no longer afford to continue policies that hasten the flight of persons to the distant suburbs. We will intensify our efforts to utilize the many federal programs available to help the cities.

We also will need the help of the general assembly and the cooperation of the governor, and I have already taken preliminary steps to obtain this assistance.

Most importantly, you who have been elected to the City Council, and I as the Mayor, must work together on the task of carrying out the mandate given us by our fellow citizens. My administration will be bringing our programs and proposed appointments before you for consideration.

For my part, I plan to work out a fair and adequate redistribution of city services to all city neighborhoods. Our department representatives to those areas will be made responsible and held accountable.

City employees will be hired and promoted because of their abilities—without outside interference. And no longer will some of them have to consider themselves as second class citizens—when I said I supported collective bargaining it was not just an empty campaign promise.

The cooperation of government at its different levels is important and can only be achieved as long as the people of Chicago are directly involved in our efforts and supportive of our goals.

I begin my administration tonight with an open house in the mayor's office. It is planned to allow everyone the opportunity of visiting the office of the mayor. But it is also a symbolic event for the open kind of government I plan to bring to this city.

As I visited the various neighborhoods in the campaign, I learned fast that it's a mistake to think that all of the wisdom and possible solutions to our problems are available only in this building. I listened to suggestions from residents for ways of solving many problems. In the housing projects, people talked of ways to reduce crime, relieve overcrowding, and they were good ideas that we plan to study, and possibly implement.

The people must know that from this day on, we want their opinions. We want to hear their complaints and problems. We will give fair consideration to their demands and proposals. We want them to become real partners in the business of government.

The open house at City Hall must not be allowed to end tonight. The doors must be kept open. I will keep them open.

But as important as the job to be done by government in the neighborhoods, the people must also be involved.

If all of us would require the same level of performance from ourselves as we expect from government, this city will forever be the city that works.

In the past several months, my eyes were not only focused on abandoned buildings and boarded-up businesses. As I walked the city streets, there was also the blight caused by people. People who don't care . . . children tossing litter onto our streets and yards . . . the defacement of buildings.

—All signs that civic pride in many neighborhoods is at a low ebb.

We must care. We must all care. And while I am working, while the government is working, so must the people also work.

Governments everywhere—at the national, state and city levels—are in the throes of the revolution of rising expectations. The people ask much, often more than any government can give. We must resist the temptation to promise solutions to all problems. But we will set high goals and strive to achieve them. Reach for the stars . . . and if we fall short . . . look how high up we'll be anyway.

Grave problems confront us. The challenges they present are of sobering magnitude. They cry out for solution. So, with the help of God, let us begin.

Prayer Offered by Rev. Dr. J. H. Jackson.

The Mayor then presented Dr. J. H. Jackson, President, National Baptist Convention, USA, Incorporated, who offered a prayer for guidance.

Oath of Office Administered to Cecil A. Partee as City Treasurer.

Honorable Jane Byrne, Mayor, then administered the oath of office prescribed by statute to Cecil A. Partee, as City Treasurer of the City of Chicago, which oath was subscribed to by Mr. Partee and filed with the City Clerk.

Approval Given to Official Bond of Cecil A. Partee as City Treasurer.

John C. Marcin, City Clerk, presented the official bond of Cecil A. Partee as City Treasurer of the City of Chicago in the sum of $2,000,000.00 with the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company and the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland as sureties, each in the penal sum of $1,000,000.00; which bond bears approval as to form by William R. Quinlan, Corporation Counsel, and as to sureties by Clark Burrus, City Comptroller.

On motion of Alderman Frost said bond was Approved, by yeas and nays as follows:

Yeas—Aldermen Roti, Barnett, Kenner, Evans, Bloom, Sawyer, Bertrand, Humes, Shaw, Vrdolyak, Huels, Majerczyk, Madrzyk, Burke, Brady, Barden, McFolling, Kellam, Sheahan, Kelley, Sherman, Stemberk. Nays—None.

Approval Given to Official Bonds of Cecil A. Partee as Treasurer Ex Officio of Sundry Funds.

The City Clerk transmitted official bonds of Cecil A. Be It Resolved, That the Rules of Order and Procedure of the City Council shall be as follows:

Presiding Officer of the Council: Mayor; President Pro Tem.

RULE 1. The Mayor shall be the presiding officer of the Council.

The Council shall elect one of its members president pro tem. of the Council, who shall act as presiding officer of the Council during a temporary absence or disability of the Mayor or when requested so to do by the Mayor. The president pro tem. of the Council, when acting as the presiding officer, shall vote on all questions on which the vote is taken by yeas and nays, his name being called last.

Convening of the Council; Temporary Chairman.

RULE 2. Each meeting of the Council shall convene at the time appointed for such meeting as provided by ordinance. In the absence of the Mayor and the president pro tem., a temporary chairman for the meeting shall be elected by a majority vote of the aldermen present from among their members. The Clerk (or someone appointed to fill his place) shall thereupon immediately call the roll of members. If no quorum be present, the Council shall not thereby stand adjourned, but the members present shall be competent to adjourn or recess the Council by a majority vote.

Quorum; Order of Business; Questions Relating to Priority of Business.

RULE 3. A quorum for the transaction of business shall consist of a majority of all the aldermen entitled by law to be elected. When a quorum is present the Council shall proceed to the business before it, which shall be conducted in the following order:

ORDER OF BUSINESS.

1. Quorum roll call and invocation.
2. Reports and communications from the Mayor and other city officers.
3. Reports of standing committees.
4. Reports of special committees.
5. Presentation of petitions, communications, resolutions, orders and ordinances by aldermen.

8. Miscellaneous business.

Any matter before the Council may be set down as a special order of business at a time certain, if two-thirds of the aldermen present vote in the affirmative, but not otherwise.

All questions relating to the priority of business shall be decided by the Chair, without debate, subject to appeal.

Duties and Privileges of the Presiding Officer.

RULE 4. The presiding officer shall preserve order and decorum, and may speak to points of order in preference to other members, rising from his seat for that purpose, and shall decide all questions or order, subject to appeal.

In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct, the presiding officer shall have the power to require the chamber to be cleared.

Duties of Members.

RULE 5. While the presiding officer is putting the question, no member shall walk across or out of the Council room.

RULE 6. Every member, previous to his speaking or making a motion shall rise from his seat and address himself to the presiding officer, and say, "Madam President", or "Mr. President", dependent on the chair's proper title, and shall not proceed with his remarks until recognized and named by the Chair. He shall confine himself to the question under debate, avoiding personalities and refraining from impugning the motives of any other member's argument or vote.

RULE 7. When two or more members rise at the same time, the presiding officer shall name the member who is to speak first.

Visitors; Lobbying during Meeting Prohibited.

RULE 8. During the session of the City Council, no one, unless by consent of the Council, shall be admitted within the bar of the City Council Chamber except representatives of the press, television, radio, ex-aldermen and persons invited by the Mayor or other Presiding Officer. The Mayor or Presiding Officer shall assign seats for the persons invited by them. The Committee on Rules shall assign an area or areas for said media of communication, and such area or areas shall be for the reporters and for such cameras and recording devices or other equipment as may be necessary for use of said media of communication.

No person shall at any meeting of the Council solicit any alderman to vote for or against any person or proposition.

Presentation of New Business; Call of the Wards.

RULE 9. When a member wishes to present a communication, petition, order, resolution, ordinance or other original matter, he shall send it to the desk of the Clerk, who shall read such matter when reached in its proper order; and the Clerk shall call each ward for the fifth order of business, beginning one meeting at the First Ward and the next meeting at the Fiftieth Ward, and so on alternately during succeeding regular meetings.

Debate.

RULE 10. No member shall speak more than once on the same question until every other member desiring to speak shall have had an opportunity to do so; provided, however, that the proponent of the matter under consideration, or the chairman of the committee whose report is under consideration, as the case may be, shall have the right to open and close debate. No member shall speak longer than ten minutes at any one time, except by consent of the Council; and in closing debate on any question, as above provided, the speaker shall be limited to five minutes, except by consent of the Council.

While a member is speaking, no member shall hold any private discourse, nor pass between the speaker and the Chair.

Call of Members to Order.

RULE 11. A member when called to order by the Chair shall thereupon take his seat and the order or ruling of the Chair shall be binding, and conclusive, subject only to the right of appeal.

Appeals from Decisions of the Chair.

RULE 12. Any member may appeal to the Council from a ruling of the Chair and the member making the appeal may briefly state his reason for the same, and the Chair may briefly explain his ruling; but there shall be no debate on the appeal and no other member shall participate in the discussion. The Chair shall then put the question, "Shall the decision of the Chair be sustained?", if a majority of the members present vote "Yes", the decision of the Chair is sustained, otherwise the decision of the Chair is overruled.

RULE 15. No motion in the Council or in committee shall require a second. When a motion is made, it shall be stated by the presiding officer before debate, and every motion in the Council, except motions of procedure, shall be reduced to writing, if required by a member, and the proposer of the motion shall be entitled to the floor.

Withdrawal of Motions.

RULE 16. After the question on a motion or resolution is stated by the presiding officer, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the Council, but may be withdrawn at any time before decision, by consent of the Council.

Division of Questions.

RULE 17. If any communication, petition, ordinance, order, resolution or other original matter under consideration contains several distinct propositions, the Council by a majority vote of the members present may divide such question.

The Council, at the request of any two (2) aldermen present, shall divide a question dealing with the confirmation of appointments requiring Council approval so that each appointee may be considered separately.

Record of Motions.

RULE 18. In all cases where a resolution or motion is entered in the Journal, the name of the member moving the same shall be entered also.

Taking and Entering of Votes; Explanations of Votes Not Permitted.

RULE 19. At the request of any member, the yeas and nays upon any question shall be taken and entered in the journal; but the yeas and nays shall not be taken unless called for previously to any other vote on the question.

When the Clerk has commenced to call the roll of the Council for the taking of a vote by yeas and nays, all debate on the question before the Council shall be deemed concluded, and during the taking of the vote no member shall be permitted to explain his vote but shall respond to the calling of his name by the Clerk by answering "yea" or "nay", as the case may be.

Announcement and Changes of Votes.

RULE 20. The result of all votes by roll call shall not be announced by the Clerk, but shall be handed by him to the presiding officer for announcement, and no vote shall be changed after the tally list has passed from the hands of the Clerk.

Precedence of Motions.

RULE 21. When a question is under debate, the following motions shall be in order and shall have precedence over each other in order, as listed:

1. to adjourn to a day certain;

3. to take a recess;
4. to lay on the table;

6. to refer;
7. to amend;
8. to defer or postpone to a time certain;
9. to defer or postpone (without reference to time).

Numbers 2, 4 and 5 shall be decided without debate.

Motion to Adjourn.

RULE 22. A motion to adjourn the Council shall always be in order, except

1. when a member is in possession of the floor;
2. when the members are voting;
3. when adjournment was the last preceding motion; and
4. when it has been decided that the previous question shall be taken.

RULE 23. A motion to adjourn shall not be subject to amendment, but a motion to adjourn to a time certain shall be.

Previous Question.

RULE 24. When the previous question is moved on the main question, it shall be put in this form: "Shall the main question now be put?" If such motion is carried by a majority of all the aldermen authorized by law to be elected, no further amendment, motion or debate shall be allowed and the question shall be put without delay upon the pending amendments or motion in inverse order of presentation, and then upon the main question.

Motions to Lay on the Table and to Take from the Table.

RULE 25. A motion to lay a question on the table shall not be debatable. A motion to take a question from the table shall not be debatable.

A motion to lay on the table and publish, or with any other condition, shall be subject to amendment and debate.

A motion to take any question from the table may be proposed at the same meeting at which such question was laid upon the table, provided two-thirds (⅔) of all the aldermen vote therefor.

RULE 26. A motion to lay any particular motion or proposition on the table shall apply to that motion or proposition only. An amendment to the main motion or proposition or other pending motion or proposition may be laid on the table and neither the main motion or proposition nor such other pending motion or proposition shall be affected thereby.

Postponement; Motion to Defer or Postpone Without any Reference to Time.

RULE 27. Subject to the provisions of Rule 25, consideration of a motion or other proposition may not be postponed indefinitely. Unless a definite time is set for its subsequent consideration and final action, a motion to defer or postpone, without any reference to time, shall be construed as a motion to postpone to the next succeeding regular meeting.

Motion to Refer.

RULE 28. A motion to refer to a standing committee shall take precedence over a similar motion to refer to a special committee.

Motion to Amend.

RULE 29. A motion to amend an amendment shall be in order, but one to amend an amendment to an amendment shall not be entertained.

RULE 30. An amendment modifying the intention of a motion shall be in order; but an amendment relating to a different subject shall not be in order.

On an amendment to "Strike out and insert", the paragraph to be amended shall first be read as it stands, then the words proposed to be stricken out, then those to be inserted, and finally the paragraph as it will stand if so amended shall be read.

RULE 31. An amendment to the main motion or proposition or other pending motion or proposition may be referred to a committee and neither the main motion or proposition nor such other pending motion or proposition shall be affected thereby.

Filling of Blanks.

RULE 32. When a blank is to be filled, and different sums or time proposed, the motion or proposition shall be taken first on the least sum or the longest time.

Motion to Substitute.

RULE 33. A substitute for any original proposition under debate or for any pending amendment to such proposition may be entertained notwithstanding that at such time further amendment is admissible; and if accepted by the Council by a majority vote of the aldermen entitled by law to be elected shall entirely supersede such original proposition or amendment, as the case may be, and cut off all amendments appertaining thereto.

Reconsideration.

RULE 34. A vote or question may be reconsidered at any time during the same meeting, or at the first regular meeting held thereafter. A motion for reconsideration, having been once made and decided in the negative shall not be renewed, nor shall a motion to reconsider be reconsidered.

A motion to reconsider must be made by a member who voted on the prevailing side of the question to be reconsidered, unless otherwise provided by law; provided however, that where a motion has received a majority vote in the affirmative, but is declared lost solely on the ground that a greater number of affirmative votes is required by statute for the passage or adoption of such motion, then in such case a motion to reconsider may be made only by a member who voted in the affirmative on such question to be reconsidered.
